Yes, that was an entire roasted chicken. (https://www.livejournal.com/away?to=http%3A/www.fitday.com/webfit/publicjournals.html%3FOwner%3Dcvillette%26Year%3D2007%26Month%3D9%26Day%3D22)

I was hungry.

And it came out really well.

And the look on Lau's face was totally worth it.

Hey there. Sorry about the drama. It was... it was an emotional decision, and I didn't handle it well. So yeah, I'm sorry.

Scary.

Bwahahaha.

Lau: "Aren't you going to crack the bones and suck out the marrow?"

OH: "Chickens have hollow bones."

Lau: "..."

I horrify her.

On the other hand, roasted chicken.

It may be too early to ask, but do you guys--meaning trollcatz and T, and Ometotchtli--have plans for the ~~National Day of Gluttony~~ Thanksgiving? I know where to get fresh free-range organic turkeys.

We have the command appearance at dad's, but he doesn't really mean it.

And that's lunchtime.

Do the pretentious turkeys actually taste better?

Do the pretentious turkeys actually taste better?

Oh.

So.

Much.

Wait 'til you taste.

Are we completely invested in tradition, or should I get one smoked one? I just found out the farm does their own smoking. Yum. No gravy or stuffing on that one, though...

Dude. I am in your hands.

Unless you try to feed me jellyfish again. Or sea snot.

Ometotchtli

I will eat your sea snot. And Chaz's too, since he is also a sissy and doesn't know what is good.

Sea urchin, AAAAGGHH! Who the hell first attempted to eat that? And having tried and been made wise, why did whoever it was put it on the menu?

Can we kick in against expenses? Three yuppie turkeys might get a bit spendy.

Good idea. Hey, you want to do the pie? Your pie crust skills are way better than mine. envy

And her voice kind of squeaked on "Aren't." It was great.

Did you like my graveyard voice, like, "I know this because I HAVE FIRST-HAND EXPERIENCE"?

Those were pretty clean bones in that pitiful little pile, though. g

Hi, sorry for commenting months after this was posted, but I just gotta say--the insides of chicken bones is quite tasty(whatever the reddish stuff inside is, marrow or not). And so is the crunchy white stuff at the ends of the chicken leg. I clean bones very well.

I gotta say, I love the links in this livejournal--from the organic chocolate and the firearm links in comments. Though the entire thing makes me very hungry. Some of the foods you've mentioned I don't think I've even tasted.

Mmmm food.
